I talked for a few minutes yesterday with A. Kallenbrun— an old-timer in Pahoek. He's all puffed up over plans to buy a new car. After all, I guess he's entitled to one—if he wants it. He's been driving a 1930 model Ford Flying Cloud for eleven years—and he says it still runs as slick as a sewing machine. The speedometer shows some 100,000 miles, but Mr. Kallenbrun explained that the machine was now starting its second million. He's a real expert on the speedometer when it stood on 99,999 miles just to prove that it had been a good old bus. The Kallenbruns have taken many long trips in the car of 1929 vintage and I'm wondering today if they'll be able to say as much for the new car he plans to buy.

There are a lot of busy men in the Lake Region but I'll be in the Hampton takes care of the Rader properties and is busy night and day. Along with looking out for the Rader properties he also looks after Rader's camp in Belle Glade. And to keep a camp in Belle Glade and keep Mr. Hampton busy is no small task. And through it all he has smile.

Speaking of smiles reminds me that I always enjoy going into Lou Betzner's hardware store in Belle Glade. Whether it's to collect a bill or make some small purchases Lou always greets me with a smile. I get a big kick out of listening to him tell about some of the deer he's shot in the deep cypress. Then, too, I like to hear a fellow talk when he's not always grumpy about how bad business is. Lou enjoys a good business and makes no bones about it. I guess he has his off days but I have always found him in a pretty good humor—and that goes a long way toward building up a good business. Or at least I think so.

Mack Todd has a 50-acre field of cypress that came in from a recent dock unspatched. I understand they're growing over in Indiana way and will be ready for market in a few days. Peppers are selling for fancy prices and I hope Mack gets to sell all of those on a high market.

V. C. Denton, member of the Pahoek Athletic Council, made a detailed report yesterday at a Rotary meeting of the council's activities for the past year. Some of the fellows were more or less amazed to hear of the expenses borne by the council. They didn't know about payment of a diploma's bill for one of the chaps who won the Blue Devil colors. For examining one of the fellows for the team was injured in play. For two and dozens of other items which he escaped the attention of the Rotary members were brought vividly before them when V. C. gave his report. Traveling expenses, game guarantees, cleaning and pressing bills, advertising, and a dozen and one other things all go to reduce the balance in the treasury. But I say the money well spent. And I think every football fan in the Lake Region will agree with me. The boys get the best of attention and are entitled to it.

If you're planning to vote in Palm Beach county on May 7th, I suggest that you visit your precinct deputy registration officer and get your name on the list. No matter who you are—now how long you've been in Palm Beach county you can't vote unless you register between now and the coming primary. A new law calls for registration of every voter in the county by May 7th. It's too late to go today and be sure that you're properly registered to exercise the right of franchise. There's just a poll tax to pay since the 1937 legislature abolished this tax.

The Winter Haven Chamber of Commerce figures that assuming that this city is host to only 900 winter visitors, and using figures compiled recently by the Florida Tourist Bureau Project, a minimum of $1,000 a day in brand new money is being brought into the city with every day they stay.

Thousands of Acres Planted in Beans During Past Week

Mack Todd Has 50 Acres Of Peppers Unhurt By The Freeze

Thousands of acres of muscadine have been planted in beans during the past week. Growers have lost no time in getting their seed into the ground in an effort to make an early spring crop.

A checkup following the freeze shows that several hundred acres of cabbage remain to be harvested. Growers are receiving as high as $30 per ton. M. C. Todd has one 50-acre tract of peppers near the town of Hampton that came through the freeze unharmed. They will be ready for harvest soon. Peppers are selling for 10 cents a bushel. This week—as high as 34 cents per bushel.

Little Wensie, Belle Glade grower, who is farming extensively in Martin County near Indian town and Silento, said that he is salvaging several hundred acres of cabbage, which were slightly damaged by the freeze.

You Tax Us And We'll Tax You, Says School Board To Drainage District

Announcement that the South Florida Conservancy District proposes to tax Palm Beach county lands in the district to raise funds for special drainage purposes, brought retaliatory measures to the school board.

The board adopted a motion directing that taxes for school purposes be levied against district owned property if the district's plan is carried out. At the office of John L. Leonard,

Routes and Lions Tie In Donkey Base Ball

The Pahoek Rotarians and Lions clubs met in a donkey base ball game last Thursday night and the fracas ended in a tie at two runs each. Those who witnessed the game had a lot of fun, those who played had a lot of bruises next day. However, there were no broken bones and the players declare they really enjoyed the evening's entertainment.

Leo Maxwell Builds New Skating Rink

Leo Maxwell, popular proprietor of the Palm Service station in Pahoek, is building a new skating rink on a lot near the Pahoek Woman's club building. Don Hill is the contractor and states that the rink will be ready for operation around the first of April. Mr. Maxwell said the rink will be one of the most modern in the county. It will be 5,000 square feet of floor space.

Dr. Stanley Speaks To Pahoek P.T.A.

Dr. T. Z. Stanley, of Palm Beach, was guest speaker at the Pahoek Parent Teachers Association meeting in the school auditorium recently. His subject was "Traveling Expenses." Gordon Cook, also of West Palm Beach, showed moving pictures on "The Control and Treatment of Diphtheria." Miss Elizabeth Horrell, county nurse, introduced the guests and made a brief talk on "Treatment of Children's Discharges."

Frank Roselle, chairman of a committee to raise funds to erect a bicycle shop near the Pahoek school, reported that the funds had been raised. Carmen Salvatore, county school board member, suggested that the erection of the shop be postponed until summer at which time the school board would be able to assist financially with the project.

The attendance began went to the fourth and fifth grades, with Miss Myrtle Martin, teacher in the elementary school, and to Mrs. Frank Hobson's and Mrs. Douglass Moore's classes in the high school. Miss Juanita Eiler coordinated the program with a piano solo. Committee composed of Miss Myrtle Martin, teacher in the elementary school, Mrs. Frank Hobson, Mrs. Douglass Moore, Mrs. Myrtle Martin, Mrs. Jim Beardsley and Mrs. Jim Beardsley, served refreshments.

Founder's Day At Canal Point P.T.A.

Report Shows Athletic Council Is Doing Excellent Work; Balance Left After All Bills Are Paid

The Pahoek Athletic Council, composed of John Thomas, Pete deMoya and V. C. Denton, made a report to the Rotary club yesterday of the council's activities during the past season. The report was read by Mr. Denton and copies were given each member of the club and the press. We are printing the detailed report as full below.

When it is considered that a few short years ago the season's income from football ran only a few hundred dollars, it is easy to see that the Council has been on its toes since it was organized by the Pahoek Rotary Club. The members of the foot ball squad now enjoy the finest equipment that money can buy. They have the very best of medical attention. They have their own ambulance. They have one of the finest foot ball fields in Florida with lights and bleachers. Members of the squad are given opportunity to see such spectacles as the Orange Bowl game, the Miami-Grovia game and the county's expense. In fact the Blue Devils have a lot of

Sholtz May Run For Governor Again

Washington, Feb. 7.—Former Gov. Dave Sholtz of Florida told friends here Wednesday he is leaning toward running for the office of governor in 1944. He was one of the 50 states sent to the senate seat held by Senator C. O. Andrews. Sholtz ended his term as governor in 1938 and retired to private life. Under Florida law a governor cannot succeed himself. He has now for 18 years been a two years ago, but was badly carrying on the work.

Clancey Assails Bondholders As He Speaks In Glades

Panama City Man Is First Gubernatorial Candidate To Visit Lake Region

Charging that the state courts have lost control of matters pertaining to bondholders, and that one way to defeat the bondholder interests is to re-negotiate the Puth bill, Judge James Hannibal Clancey, Panama City, visited the Lake Region yesterday afternoon in a fiery speech in Pahoek said the people of Florida "must throw off the shackles of the bond racketeers." It was the first appearance of a gubernatorial candidate in the Lake Okechobee farming region. He was introduced by Mayor John Dalany. The story of the poor little devil of a Florida tax payer," Judge Clancey said, "is a tragic and shocking one, a story of spathy, duplicity, and neglect on the part of officials who work not for the tax payer but on him." He said that the minor federal judges have usurped many tax regulatory matters that belong to the state courts.

"I have stepped into the fight because I know that the average tax payer of Florida is in the grip of an incredible, absolutely group of absentee bond racketeers who are out of reach, out of touch, and out of sympathy with the people of Florida," he asserted. "Clancey said, 'I cherish no illusions. No man can beat alone $600,000, and that is the cost to the people of Florida one to the alien interests that control and direct the political affairs of this state."

Clancey charged that the Florida debt is controlled by three bond houses. That under such conditions it is futile to think of honest or efficient government because we are bound to have such government. He said the directors of this $600,000,000. "Clancey's program, he said, is: "Return the control of tax matters to the state courts; use the laws that are on our statute books and do noticker with bond agents; recapture the right of the tax payer to pay his taxes with bonds and coupons; this is the only thing that the bond agents cannot beat. Retake the Puth bill, which is not a program of compromise, adjustment and settlement of delinquent taxes but a payment of taxes under a demand of the United States supreme court rendered before there were any bonds." He said he would be planning with the facilities of the state. That the maximum interest on judgments should be 1-1-2 or 2 per cent.

Dr. G. B. Sartoris Is Lions Speaker

Dr. G. B. Sartoris, of the U. S. Sugar Cane Trust station in Canal Point, was the speaker at the Tuesday meeting of the Pahoek Lions Club. Dr. Sartoris spoke on "Sugar Cane Breeding" and his talk was thoroughly enjoyed by the members and guests. Four new members were inducted into club membership. They were: J. M. Napier, Bill Spooner, Cecil Johnson and J. C. Crosby. Officials of the club announced that the program for supervised playgrounds in Canal Point and Pahoek following the close of school is being carried on. The Lions hope to secure at least two youth workers from the National Youth Administration to assist in carrying on the work.

More than 7,500,000 other Americans, former Scouts now grown to manhood, listened to the President with countless friends and admirers of the Boy Scout movement."

You Must Register If Want To Vote In May Primaries

If you're a resident of Palm Beach county and want to vote in the coming primary elections to be held in May, you had better see to it that your name is properly registered on the registration books in your respective precinct. It doesn't matter how long you have lived in the county nor how many times you registered. It is necessary that you register before you will be qualified to vote. A new law passed by the legislature requires that all voters be registered for the 1940 elections.

Bees Starve After Cold Kills Pollen

Umatilla, Fla., Feb. 8.—A beekeeper advised Wednesday that Florida bees face starvation because of the recent cold wave while the bees have just begun to fly to Florida for the winter, all well provisioned.

John N. Demuth said most of the 42,000 hives of native bees had just begun to gather pollen and nectar for themselves when the freeze killed blossoms of all kinds.

On the other hand, 4,000 colonies of Yankee bees, brought by truck from the north for the winter, had not yet begun to gather pollen and nectar all summer.

NEW SEMINOLE WAR

If the Great White Father at Washington isn't too busy giving reporters the third term run-around he might take a few minutes off one of these days and settle the new Seminole war which Big Chief Tackles of the interior department and "Dipping Bull" Knapp, state veterinarian, are fighting to start.

The issue seems to be some 400 deer on the Indian reservation in Hendry county. "Dipping Bull" allows as how 'em're lousy with ticks and wants to shoot 'em before they spread fever to the livestock for which he is family physician. The reservation Seminoles, 40 or 50 strong, say "Uh-uh," and Big Chief Tackles says that goes for him too. Besides that he shorts that there's no reason to it because "the Everglades is an inferior cattle range while it is a perfect deer country."

How the Everglades fates as a cattle range isn't the point. There are cattle there and there are deer there. The deer have ticks which they spread to cows. These cows spread it on other herds until the whole state is infested. The only protection is dipping every 14 days, a costly and inconvenient practice.

Dr. Knapp wants to know if Secretary Tackles wants to consign the huge Florida cattle industry to that for the sake of 400 deer. Secretary Tackles hasn't replied. However, the question deserves an answer and if the head of the interior department doesn't give it the department of agriculture should seek arbitration at the White House.

It shouldn't be a very difficult problem to settle. A little diplomacy with Big Chief Tackles and some WPAnpump for the Indians ought to do it. Since the freeze we haven't heard what venison is worth on the hoof but $100 a head would seem to be an ample price, that probably being about what it costs a hunter to kill one. At that very high rate it's only a matter of some $40,000 in a cash deal and probably far less if the hunter himself shoot them to thin out the herds he might be willing to ship them down to the Everglades and turn them loose for his 40 or 50 Seminoles to pet when the souvenir bugs get so bad they had to go out and shoot their supper.

Possibly there is an even simpler solution. The Seminoles are not above earning an honest dollar and we understand the state pays to have ticky deer shot. Why not pay the Seminoles. Tackles says it's all right with him if it is with them and they won't take money for that kind of work, the reservation tribe isn't anything like the noble redskins who exhibit along the Tamiami Trail—Fort Myers News-Press.

A FORTUNATE MAN

He is an American.
 He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by her decree.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammeled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.
 He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—yet other as his convictions dictate, even if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.
 He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a state-line, rather than foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships God in the fashion of his choice.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater safety, if young, nor, if older, ordered to serve the State with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless privileges.
 He is a fortunate man.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

And while these scientists are all humped over their test tubes they might try and see if they can't discover what it is that makes folks who are otherwise sane and normal, suddenly break out with a RASH announcement and then start to stagger around begging people to support 'em.

I see some of the papers are still talking about the Governor's RACE. Well, it may have been a race a while back but now it looks more like a stampede or an epidemic. And when that wild herd starts going, boy what a lot of dust they'll throw in our eyes.

After reading over most of the platforms dashed out by the various candidates, I've come to the conclusion that a lot of newspaper boys have been wasting their time setting the darn things over and over again. What they ought to do is just take any one of 'em, mark it "Set" and leave it 'till on the done by the masthead, and as additional hopefuls announce all they'd have to do is just change the name and they'd save a whole helluva lot of costly composition.

And the unfortunate part of it is a lot of folks read these platforms or listen to the promises and pledges these candidates make from the stump, and actually BELIEVE that when the guy thumps his chest and shouts "Elect me your Governor and I'll do so and such," he really CAN and WILL do as he says.

But friends, they WON'T because they CAN'T. A Governor may be for Economy, he may be for Old Age-Pensions, he may be for Labor and a thousand other things, but there is darn little he can do about it if the Legislature happens to disagree with him. Of course he can plead with them and exercise his veto like Fred did, but even that won't help him if the Legislature should happen to get up on its ear and override him.

Why if the average gubernatorial candidate could do half the things he seems to be to there just wouldn't be any need of sending a lot of senators and representatives to Tallahassee, while a candidate may talk like Santa Claus, just between you and me it's the Legislature that really scares the white whippers and they are the boys you'd better write your letters to when you want something in your stocking. And don't forget that the Governor, whoever he happens to be, will have to hang up his little stocking just like the rest of us.

You folks can go ahead and get all mesmerized and flummoxed about this Governor's race if you want to, but if you take my advice you'll do your free thinking and deep capitalizing on the problem of electing a few hang-up senators and representatives. They are the boys that hold the whip hand.

According to the rules we're playin' under now, it's the AYE's in the legislature and not the NAY's on the stump that really count, and you better be darn sure what kind of "Ayes," the senator or representative from your section are apt to be making when they get to Tallahassee. The time to find out about this is BEFORE you send 'em there.

Now you hear a lot of loose talk about our needin' more business men in the legislature. That may be right, but remember a man may be a howling success in one particular line of business and when you yank him out of that and slum him headlong into some other kind that he doesn't know anything about, nine chances out of ten he turns out to be a total loss. The thing we need in government today about everything else is good old-fashioned horse-sense.

Bandits Grab Cash
in Williston Bank

Williston, Fla., Feb. 7.—Three bandits swept between $3,000 and $4,000 from cash drawers of the Perkins State Bank here Wednesday while a fourth man and at least one woman waited outside and helped them make their escape.

R. P. Perkins, bank president, was struck on the head with a pistol but was not seriously hurt when he told one of the men he could not open vaults because the locks were on.

Melvin Drape, state road patrolman, who arrived at the bank about five minutes after the hold-up, said the bandits apparently fled in a black sedan bearing a 1939 Michigan license plate.

Drape said one of the three men who entered the bank was described as about 42 years old, six feet tall, weighing from 200 to 220 pounds, and blond.

Drape said Perkins and three bank employees were forced to the floor at gun point, while several patrons were told to line up against the wall.

"J. H. Cheely, a bank director who was making a deposit at the time of the holdup, said the bandits impressed him as being 'unusual'."

Capt. H. N. Kirkman of the Highway patrol said at Tallahassee that officers at all stations in north Florida would be notified of the robbery and asked to watch for the bandits.
